CLOZE TEST- MAINS LEVEL

Cloze Test

Direction (1-6): A paragraph is given below with 6 blanks. Below 6 different phrases are also given, which will fill these blanks and make a coherent passage. You are required to find the correct place for these phrases and fill in the blanks.

postponed

In its 55th meeting, the GST council deferred taking a decision on several pressing issues. These included the demand __(m)__ and on the food delivery charges of platform aggregators. Alongside, the Group of Ministers (GoM) looking into the contentious issue of rate rationalisation sought more time, while another looking into _(n)__ an extension. While there were other recommendations by the council on penal charges levied by financial institutions, fortified rice kernels and the sale of used cars, some of the clarifications that it did provide only served _(o)_ under the Goods and Services Tax. The council clarified that popcorn with salt and spices would be taxed at 5 per cent GST. If it is pre-packaged and labelled the tax would be levied at 12 per cent. And if it is mixed with sugar then at 18 per cent. This oddity, however, is not a one-off. Under this indirect tax framework, there are numerous examples of classification and categorisation of goods and services _(p)_. For instance, a few months ago, D Srinivasan, Managing Director of Coimbatore's Annapoorna Hotels, had raised the issue of the difference rates at which buns and cream buns were taxed. In the past, a distinction has also been drawn been packed/frozen parathas and rotis. India stands out as one of the few countries _(q)__. Of 115 countries, only five – Ghana, India, Italy, Luxembourg and Pakistan – have four or more GST slabs as per the World Bank's India Development Update 2018. Twenty-eight had two rates, while 49 levied a single rate. A multiple-level rate structure only raises the compliance burden, increases the space for bureaucratic discretion, and goes against the desire __(r)__

5 3 6 1 4 2

1. where different tax rates are imposed

2. to improve the ease of doing business in the country

3. the matter of the compensation cess was also given

4. with such a complex indirect tax structure

5. for lowering the tax on health and life insurance

6. to highlight the oddities of the multiple rate structure

In its 55th meeting, the GST council deferred taking a decision on several pressing issues. These included the demand __(m)___ and on the food delivery charges of platform aggregators. Alongside, the Group of Ministers (GoM) looking into the contentious issue of rate rationalisation sought more time, while another looking into ___(n)___ an extension. While there were other recommendations by the council on penal charges levied by financial institutions, fortified rice kernels and the sale of used cars, some of the clarifications that it did provide only served __(o)__ under the Goods and Services Tax. The council clarified that popcorn with salt and spices would be taxed at 5 per cent GST. If it is pre-packaged and labelled the tax would be levied at 12 per cent. And if it is mixed with sugar then at 18 per cent. This oddity, however, is not a one-off. Under this indirect tax framework, there are numerous examples of classification and categorisation of goods and services ___(p)___. For instance, a few months ago, D Srinivasan, Managing Director of Coimbatore's

Annapoorna Hotels, had raised the issue of the difference rates at which buns and cream buns were taxed. In the past, a distinction has also been drawn been packed/frozen parathas and rotis. India stands out as one of the few countries __(q)___.Of 115 countries, only five – Ghana, India, Italy, Luxembourg and Pakistan – have four or more GST slabs as per the World Bank's India Development Update 2018. Twenty-eight had two rates, while 49 levied a single rate. A multiple-level rate structure only raises the compliance burden, increases the space for bureaucratic discretion, and goes against the desire __(r)___

1. where different tax rates are imposed

2. to improve the ease of doing business in the country

3. the matter of the compensation cess was also given

4. with such a complex indirect tax structure

5. for lowering the tax on health and life insurance

6. to highlight the oddities of the multiple rate structure

These included the demand __(m)___ and on the food delivery charges of platform aggregators.

A. 3

B. 6

C. 1

D. 2

E. 5

1. Which of the following phrases can contextually and grammatically fill the place m?

P1 — 5 12 18

P2

P3

→ complicated Summary

Alongside, the Group of Ministers (GoM) looking into the contentious issue of rate rationalisation sought more time, while another looking into ___(n)___ an extension.

A. 5

B. 4

C. 2

D. 3

E. 1

2. Which of the following phrases can contextually and grammatically fill the place n?

While there were other recommendations by the council on penal charges levied by financial institutions, fortified rice kernels and the sale of used cars, some of the clarifications that it did provide only served __(o)__ under the Goods and Services Tax.

A. 3

B. 6

C. 1

D. 5

E. 4

3. Which of the following phrases can contextually and grammatically fill the place o?

Under this indirect tax framework, there are numerous examples of classification and categorisation of goods and services ___(p)___.

4. Which of the following phrases can contextually and grammatically fill the place p?

A. 4

B. 1

C. 2

D. 5

E. 6

In the past, a distinction has also been drawn been packed/frozen parathas and rotis. India stands out as one of the few countries _(q)__.

5. Which of the following phrases can contextually and grammatically fill the place q?

A. 1

B. 5

C. 6

D. 3

E. 4

A multiple-level rate structure only raises the compliance burden, increases the space for bureaucratic discretion, and goes against the desire _(r)__.

A. 2

B. 6

C. 4

D. 3

E. 1

6. Which of the following phrases can contextually and grammatically fill the place r?

Direction (7-12): Below are two individuals, Aman and Ishita, who are engaged in a discussion on a specific topic. Several blanks have been left unfilled intentionally. Your task is to select the appropriate words from the given options to complete the sentences correctly.

A

B

_ _

blanks

Aman: Have you ever wondered about the significance of preserving local dialects and languages?

Ishita: Of course, but I often feel that in today's globalized world, their relevance is __(m)__. Wouldn't it be more pragmatic to focus on learning widely spoken languages instead?

Aman: That's a valid point, but local dialects are not just means of communication; they __(n)__ centuries of culture and tradition. Losing them is akin to losing a part of our history.

Ishita: True, but how do we ensure their survival when there's a constant _(o)__ towards homogenization? People are naturally inclined to adopt languages that offer better opportunities.

Aman: That's where the role of education comes in. By integrating regional languages into the curriculum, we can instill pride and ensure their _(p)__. Efforts at the grassroots level are equally important.

Ishita: I see your point, but the challenge lies in getting people to value them when __(q)__ languages are often perceived as more prestigious.

Aman: Precisely. It's about changing the narrative and fostering an environment where linguistic diversity is celebrated, not merely __(r)___ .

Ishita: That sounds idealistic, but how do you envision such a shift in attitudes happening on a large scale?

Aman: It starts with initiatives that showcase the richness of these dialects—literature, films, and even technology can play a role. When people see their languages being used innovatively, they'll understand their value. Plus, languages that seem _(s)_ at first glance often contain remarkable depth, even if they may appear __(t)_ to outsiders.

Ishita: I suppose such efforts could make a difference. But don't you think there's a _(u)_ that older generations value these dialects more than younger ones? That makes it harder to pass them on.

Aman: That's a common _(v)__. While older generations have a deep connection to these languages, younger people can be just as invested if given the right opportunities to engage with them. We need to make these dialects relevant in today's world.

Ishita: So, what would be the first step in making this happen?

Aman: It would involve ensuring that these languages are __(w)__ into everyday life. Public campaigns, community workshops, and integration into entertainment and education are great ways to start. It's also about creating resources that make learning these languages engaging and worth _____(x)_____.

Aman: Have you ever wondered about the significance of preserving local dialects and languages?

Ishita: Of course, but I often feel that in today's globalized world, their relevance is _(m)_. Wouldn't it be more pragmatic to focus on learning widely spoken languages instead?

Aman: That's a valid point, but local dialects are not just means of communication; they _(n)_ centuries of culture and tradition. Losing them is akin to losing a part of our history.

Ishita: True, but how do we ensure their survival when there's a constant_(o)_ towards homogenization? People are naturally inclined to adopt languages that offer better opportunities.

Aman: That's where the role of education comes in. By integrating regional languages into the curriculum, we can instill pride and ensure their _(p)_. Efforts at the grassroots level are equally important.

Ishita: I see your point, but the challenge lies in getting people to value them when _(q)_ languages are often perceived as more prestigious.

Aman: Precisely. It's about changing the narrative and fostering an environment where linguistic diversity is celebrated, not merely _(r)__ .

Ishita: That sounds idealistic, but how do you envision such a shift in attitudes happening on a large scale?

Aman: It starts with initiatives that showcase the richness of these dialects—literature, films, and even technology can play a role. When people see their languages being used innovatively, they'll understand their value. Plus, languages that seem _(s)_ at first glance often contain remarkable depth, even if they may appear _(t)_ to outsiders.

Ishita: I suppose such efforts could make a difference. But don't you think there's a _(u)_ that older generations value these dialects more than younger ones? That makes it harder to pass them on.

Aman: That's a common _(v)_. While older generations have a deep connection to these languages, younger people can be just as invested if given the right opportunities to engage with them. We need to make these dialects relevant in today's world.

Ishita: So, what would be the first step in making this happen?

Aman: It would involve ensuring that these languages are _(w)_ into everyday life. Public campaigns, community workshops, and integration into entertainment and education are great ways to start. It's also about creating resources that make learning these languages engaging and worth _(x)__.

Aman: Have you ever wondered about the significance of preserving local dialects and languages?

Ishita: Of course, but I often feel that in today's globalized world, their relevance is __(m)__. Wouldn't it be more pragmatic to focus on learning widely spoken languages instead?

Aman: That's a valid point, but local dialects are not just means of communication; they __(n)__ centuries of culture and tradition. Losing them is akin to losing a part of our history.

Questions 7: Which of the following appropriately fits in Option m and Option n respectively?

a) obsolete, encapsulate

b) redundant, encompass

c) diminishing, convey

A. Only a

B. Both a and b

C. Only b

D. Both b and c

E. All of a, b, and c

Ishita: True, but how do we ensure their survival when there's a constant _(o)__ towards homogenization? People are naturally inclined to adopt languages that offer better opportunities.

Aman: That's where the role of education comes in. By integrating regional languages into the curriculum, we can instill pride and ensure their _(p)__. Efforts at the grassroots level are equally important.

Question 8: Which of the following appropriately fits in Option o and Option p respectively?

a) gravitation, perpetuation

b) inclination, extinction

c) momentum, sustenance

A. Only a

B. Both a and c

C. Only b

D. Both b and c

E. All of a, b, and c

Ishita: I see your point, but the challenge lies in getting people to value them when __(q)__ languages are often perceived as more prestigious.

Aman: Precisely. It's about changing the narrative and fostering an environment where linguistic diversity is celebrated, not merely __(r)__ .

Question 9: Which of the following appropriately fits in Option q and Option r respectively?

a) vernacular, acknowledged

b) dominant, relegated

c) foreign, exalted

A. Only a

B. Both b and c

C. Only c

D. Both a and c

E. All of a, b, and c

Aman: It starts with initiatives that showcase the richness of these dialects—literature, films, and even technology can play a role. When people see their languages being used innovatively, they'll understand their value. Plus, languages that seem __(s)__ at first glance often contain remarkable depth, even if they may appear __(t)__ to outsiders.

(-ve) shallow/useless/unworthy/boring

a/b/c

+

priceless

P of S

Vocab

Tone

A. Only b

B. Both b and c

C. Only a

D. Both a and b

None

E. All of a, b, and c

Question 10: Which of the following appropriately fits in Option s and Option t respectively?

(+ve)

a) invaluable, arcane

(+ve)

b) profound, esoteric

deep

c) indispensable, convoluted

important

He is honored

confusing praised

(+ve)

not mere not only

Additional category

Ishita: I suppose such efforts could make a difference. But don't you think there's a _(u)_ that older generations value these dialects more than younger ones? That makes it harder to pass them on.

Aman: That's a common _(v)_. While older generations have a deep connection to these languages, younger people can be just as invested if given the right opportunities to engage with them. We need to make these dialects relevant in today's world.

Question 11: Which of the following appropriately fits in Option u and Option v respectively?

a) paradox, ubiquitous

b) fallacy, notion

c) misinterpretation, paramount

A. Only a

B. Both b and c

C. Only b

D. Both a and c

E. All of a, b, and c

Aman: It would involve ensuring that these languages are __(w)_ into everyday life. Public campaigns, community workshops, and integration into entertainment and education are great ways to start. It's also about creating resources that make learning these languages engaging and worth __(x)__.

Question 12: Which of the following appropriately fits in Option w and Option x respectively?

a) entrenched, advocating
b) ingrained, preserving
c) woven, disregarding

A. Only a
B. Both a and b
C. Only b
D. Both b and c
E. All of a, b, and c

Idiom based Cloze test

Directions(11-20): The passage given below contains some blanks wherein the phrase/ idioms have been removed. Find the phrase/ idioms from the given options that is suitable for each blank and mark that as your answer.

Achieving long-term success is not a matter of quick wins, but about staying the course and putting in consistent effort day after day. It's easy to feel like you're just __(A)__, especially when results seem slow to appear, but patience and perseverance are essential. As the saying goes, "__(B)__ ," and it's important to remember that great things take time. In those moments when you feel like you're at a crossroads or staring down the barrel of a challenge, keep in mind that you can't __(C)___ . Success doesn't arrive before its time, and you must trust the process. When you're building something, whether a career, a skill, or a relationship, remember not to __(D)__ . Diversifying your efforts ensures that if one path doesn't work out, you have others to fall back on. Of course, there will be times when you feel like you're __(E)__, but those moments are just part of the journey. Stay the course and keep taking small steps toward your goal, because in the end, it's better to __(F)_ than to _(G)__. If you ever feel overwhelmed, don't panic—just __(H)__. Worrying about the future won't help today's progress. The key to success is consistency: keep putting in the effort, and you'll_(I)__. Even when the road gets tough, remember that __(J)__ .

It’s easy to feel like you’re just __(A)___, especially when results seem slow to appear, but patience and perseverance are essential.

Question 11: (d)

Which of the following best fits in Option A?

(a) driving one crazy

(b) getting a kick out of something

(c) hitting the nail on the head

(d) burning the midnight oil

(e) sticking one’s neck out annoying someone enjoying accurately doing something

putting in a lot of efforts

taking a risk

As the saying goes, "___(B)__," and it's important to remember that great things take time.

Be patient whatever happens

Question 12:

Which of the following best fits in Option B?

review

(a) Easier said than done

(b) Rome wasn't built in a day

(c) Rain or shine

(d) Brush up on something

(e) All in the same boat

in the same situation

In those moments when you feel like you're at a crossroads or staring down the barrel of a challenge, keep in mind that you can't __(C)____ . Success doesn't arrive before its time, and you must trust the process.

go against normal things

Question 13: do something that is not normal

Which of the following best fits in Option C?

→ exaggerate assume

before it has happened

(a) go against the grain

(b) make a mountain out of a molehill

(c) count your chickens before they hatch

very less

(d) drop in the bucket

(e) fall for it

deceive, trick

fall in love

When you're building something, whether a career, a skill, or a relationship, remember not to ____(D)_____ . Diversifying your efforts ensures that if one path doesn't work out, you have others to fall back on.

not diversify

Question 14:

Which of the following best fits in Option D?

(a) put all your eggs in one basket

(b) sleep like a baby

have a sound sleep

(c) make a long story short summarise

(d) miss the boat

miss the opportunity

(e) fly off the handle

become very angry

Of course, there will be times when you feel like you're _____(E)_____, but those moments are just part of the journey.

(-ve)

Question 15:

Which of the following best fits in Option E?

(a) actions speak louder than words

(b) do not cry over spilt milk

(c) between a rock and a hard place

(d) giving someone the cold shoulder – ignore

(e) killing two birds with one stone steps toward your goal, because in the end, it's better to __(F)___ than to __(G)__.

+ve

compare two different things

Question 16:

Which of the following best fits in Option F?

start conversation

warm

To follow a misguided path

(a) compare apples to oranges

(b) go on a wild goose chase

(c) break the ice

(d) bark up the wrong tree

(e) start small and build up

futile task

e

steps toward your goal, because in the end, it's better to ___(F)___ than to ___(G)___.

present a counter argument

Question 17:

Which of the following best fits in Option G?

(a) play devil's advocate

(b) bite off more than you can chew — take more than you can handle

(c) spill the beans — reveal a secret

(d) take a rain check — decline

(e) calm before the storm — impending storm

If you ever feel overwhelmed, don't panic—just ___(H)___. Worrying about the future won't help today's progress.

Question 18:

Which of the following best fits in Option H?

(a) fit as a fiddle

(b) throw caution to the wind

(c) through thick and thin

(d) cross that bridge when you get to it

(e) off the top of my head

The key to success is consistency: keep putting in the effort, and you'll____(I)____.

get results for your efforts

Question 19:

Which of the following best fits in Option I?

fail

delay postpone defer put off

be careful

put every possible effort

(a) reap what you sow

(b) go down in flames

(c) put something on ice

(d) leave no stone unturned

(e) look before you leap

Even when the road gets tough, remember that ___(J)___ .

It's not difficulty

-ve +ve

improve or quit

Question 20:

Which of the following best fits in Option J?

don't di scum something which is already finalized

rimishaa1710@gmail.com

(a) It's not rocket science

(b) a blessing in disguise

(c) shape up or ship out

(d) do not beat a dead horse

(e) slow and steady wins the race

c

Efforts + MS