Set-4

Directions (16-20): In the following questions, a set of sentences is given and are jumbled. You are required to rearrange the given sentences in a proper manner to form a meaningful paragraph. And answer the following questions based on the rearranged sequence.

P. Public sector borrowing—the gap between government spending and tax revenue—rose to £151.9 billion in the year to March, an increase of £20.7 billion compared to the previous year.

Q. The government borrowed more than anticipated last year, increasing pressure on public finances just as the full effects of U.S. tariffs are expected to hit the UK economy.

R. The rise in borrowing has fueled speculation that Reeves may be forced to either cut public spending or raise taxes later this year to remain within her self-imposed borrowing limits.

S. These official figures come as Chancellor Rachel Reeves prepares to visit Washington in an effort to secure a potential trade deal with the U.S. that could shield UK exports from import tariffs.

T. Responding to the data, Chief Secretary to the Treasury Darren Jones emphasized that the chancellor's borrowing rules are "non-negotiable," stating that the government would never play fast and loose with the public finances.
