Set 1

Directions (1-5): In the following questions, a set of sentences is given and are jumbled. You are required to rearrange the given sentences properly to form a meaningful paragraph. And answer the following questions based on the rearranged sequence.

P. Frequent consumption of these foods has been associated with a range of health problems, including respiratory issues and heart disease.

Q. A study conducted across eight countries, including the UK and the US, has found that high consumption of ultra-processed foods (UPFs) may increase the risk of early death.

R. Although the exact reasons for their harmful effects are still being studied, many experts believe the risks are more closely linked to the high levels of fat, salt, and sugar in these products rather than the processing itself.

S. Therefore, it is strongly advised to limit the intake of ultra-processed foods as much as possible to maintain good health.

T. UPFs—such as processed meats, biscuits, fizzy drinks, ice cream, and certain breakfast cereals—are becoming a staple in diets worldwide.

P. Peter Hughes first sensed something was wrong when his train to Madrid began to slow down.

Q. The disruption was caused by a widespread power outage, which not only left Mr. Hughes stranded but also triggered significant disruption across Spain and Portugal.

R. It's going to get dark soon, and we could be stuck here for hours, he said.

S. Four hours later, Mr. Hughes remained stranded on the train, approximately 200 kilometers (124 miles) from the Spanish capital. While he had food and water, the toilets were out of service.

T. Shortly after, the TV monitor and cabin lights went dark. Emergency lighting briefly came on but soon failed, and the train came to a complete stop.

P. White House officials have also indicated that these domestic manufacturers may receive additional benefits in the future.

Q. These imports, though, will not face the extra duties applied to steel and aluminum products.

R. This decision marks a major victory for the President's trade policy, as it supports companies that manufacture products domestically.

S. However, cars imported from other countries will still face automotive tariffs.

T. President Donald Trump is taking steps to reduce the impact of his tariffs on U.S. car manufacturers, as reported by a senior White House official.

P. These frequent incidents highlight a silent but severe crisis: in 2023 alone, over 172,000 people died in road accidents across the country—an average of 474 lives lost every day, or nearly one every three minutes.

Q. Every morning, India's newspapers carry grim accounts of road accidents—buses tumbling into mountain ravines, intoxicated drivers running over pedestrians, cars colliding with parked trucks, and two-wheelers being struck by larger vehicles.

R. Experts point out that the problem goes beyond poor infrastructure—it's deeply tied to risky human behavior, weak law enforcement, and systemic neglect.

S. He acknowledged that despite numerous initiatives and significant investments, India's roads remain some of the most dangerous in the world.

T. While the official accident report for 2023 has yet to be released, Road Transport and Highways Minister Nitin Gadkari shared these figures at a road safety event in December, painting a sobering picture.
